Welcome to Your Space

Take a look at our lives, through our eyes

As with every other great book in history, this book serves as documentation of the story of our past, a recording of our present and a look toward our future. This is our story as we see life yesterday, today and tomorrow. Our ancestors of yesterday have paved the way. Today we are embarking upon challenging, yet promising times. Consequently, we realize that we are the world's future. More importantly, we are the cornerstones of our community. Together, we will make a difference in the lives of others. Individually, we will strive to set a fine example for all to follow.

WELCOME TO OUR WORLD

A Tribute to a Wonderful Young Man.

We, the Malcolm X Shabazz High School Class of 2008, dedicate this year book to Mr. Janahd Patillo also affectionally known by many family and friends as "Rocky". Rocky was our classmate and a friend to many of us. His warm smile and heart are truly missed by all Bulldogs. He will never be forgotten by his Bulldog Family.

"In Loving Memory"

The Case of the Jena 6

Last fall, when two Black high school students sat under the “white” tree on their campus, white students responded by hanging nooses from the tree. When Black students protested the light punishment for the students who hung the nooses, District Attorney Reed Walters came to the school and told the students he could “take [their] lives away with a stroke of [his] pen.” Racial tension continued to mount in Jena, and the District Attorney did nothing in response to several egregious cases of violence and threats against black students.

But when a white student--who had been a vocal supporter of the students who hung the nooses--taunted a black student, allegedly called several black students “[the “n” word]”, and was beaten up by black students, six black students were charged with second-degree attempted murder. Last month, the first young man to be tried, Mychal Bell, was convicted. He faces up to 22 years in prison for a school fight.

PROJECT GRAD

A Partnership of Opportunity and Hope

Project GRAD Newark is proud to be a partner with the Newark Public Schools since 1998. During this nearly ten-year partnership GRAD has been committed to working with the schools in the network to help students develop their skills and their belief in themselves. Malcolm X Shabazz High School is one of the first schools that GRAD has supported and the Board of Directors is pleased that there are measurable indicators to show that the students and the school overall have benefited from the programs and resources invested.

Education is people driven. Project GRAD believes in the students and their potential to progress through elementary school, graduate from high school and continue to earn their college degrees. With their education and credentials, a world of opportunities and success await them. Mrs. Lelia Dinkins, Principal, the guidance department and many of the school staff share this belief. Ms. LA Vonne Furlow has served as the Project GRAD Scholarship Coordinator here since 2000; she refuses to allow students to give up on themselves. She advocates for them while pushing them forward. These combined efforts have resulted in higher graduation rates and increasing GRAD scholarship recipients earning the $6,000 to help them pay for their college education:

2001 - 30 GRAD Scholars
2002 - 26 GRAD Scholars
2003 - 25 GRAD Scholars
2004 - 22 GRAD Scholars
2005 - 43 GRAD Scholars
2006 - 62 GRAD Scholars
2007 - 65 GRAD Scholars
2008 - To be determined in June 2008.

Although the scholarship is an incredible incentive, Project GRAD is about much more than that. It is about helping students understand the value and importance education in their lives. It is about instilling in young adults hope for themselves and their future. It is about building a school culture in which everyone is responsible for providing the best climate for teaching and learning possible. Project GRAD Newark is proud to be part of the Malcolm X Shabazz High School Community.

Congratulations Class of 2008; go forth and succeed.

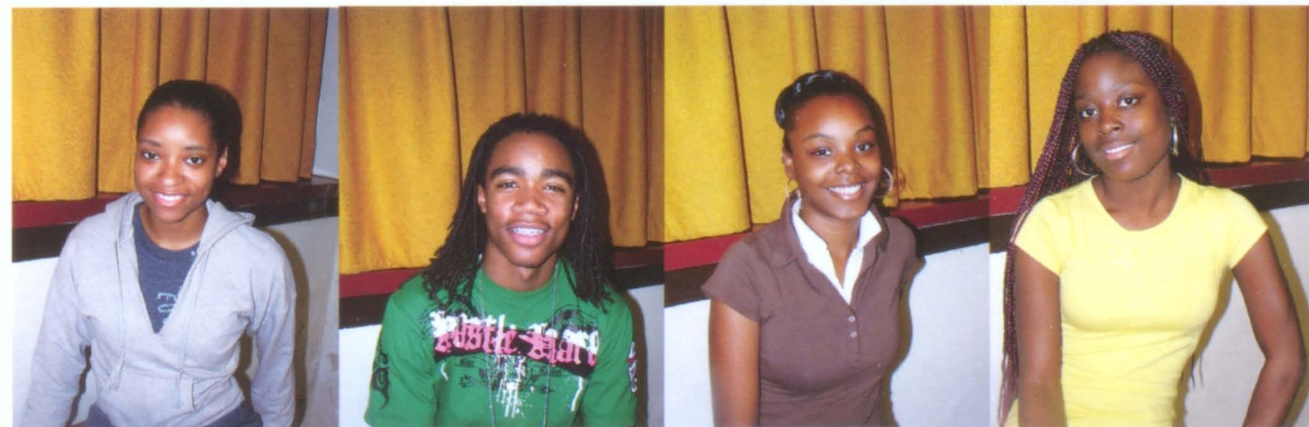

Mary G. Bennett

SENIOR CLASS ADVISORS

Ms. Hughes

Ms. Welch

Mrs. Hedgpath-White
Yearbook Advisor

To the Class of 2008:

Congratulations! You have finally made it to the end of the road. The future of our society lies within this graduating body. You are the change that we can believe in! You hold the solutions to the problems of today.

Years of hard work and dedication to your school work have paid off. Your family, friends and our community are proud of you. You have persevered through challenging times. When faced with hindrances, YOU took the right road. You took the road that led to the graduation line.

You came in as a class of 400+ freshmen. Almost half of that initial class sits with this graduating body. Even when you might have thought it impossible, you stood tall, held your head up high and you walked on with a stride the length of the Nile. That is why YOU are here! Use this experience as one of many life lessons that you shall encounter in time.

You are now at another crossroad in life. Your actions of today, determine your life of tomorrow. Make good choices. Keep good company. Believe in yourself. Believe that you have a voice that is worth hearing. Dream big, and dream a lot. Never, ever give up on those dreams. Before you stands your Presidential nominees that many thought would not be in the positions that they are today. They are truly no different than you... Dream, speak, believe and continue to keep good company and make good choices. You too will be where you want to be in your life.

Always,

Your Senior Class and Yearbook advisors

Ms. Welch, Ms. Hughe & Mrs. Hedgepath-White

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

MS. LELIA DINKINS

Four years ago, you, the class of 2008, entered Malcolm X Shabazz High School with an eagerness to grow and learn. Your transition to high school was not an easy one; however, you met the challenges and overcame them, and for that reason I celebrate your successes.

It is now time to end this chapter in your life and to begin a new one. As you sit and reflect about your high school experience, remember that in order to be successful you must work hard. Stay focused, determined and true to yourselves.

It has been challenging yet rewarding to serve as your Principal, and I know you will do well. Remember to always voice your dreams and capture your visions of a better tomorrow.
